

96-0065

The invention relates to the agriculture, in particular, to the milk cooling and farm products storage devices.

The summary of the invention consists in the fact that the installation comprising an ice storage and a water supply pipe-line, complementary comprises a reservoir-cooler with inlet and outlet pipes, installed above the ice storage, the cross-section area thereof being 9,5-10,5 as much as the cross-section area of the ice storage.

The technical result consists in the possibility of preliminary cooling the dosed out water.

Claims: 1

Fig.: 1