

s 2015 0056

The invention relates to the wine industry, namely to a process for producing natural dry wine.

The process, according to the invention, provides for the production of wine stock, dealcoholization of a part thereof by distillation under vacuum at the temperature of 20...40°C and the pressure of 0.02...0.04 bar, to the attainment of an alcohol content of 6...8 vol.%, blending of partially dealcoholized wine with initial wine in a ratio of, vol.%, (30...50) : (50...70).

Claims: 1