

95-0045

Application field: the invention relates to the wine-making field, namely, to the alcohol's and alcohol drinks treatment. The process provides the introduction into the alcoholic drink of the autumn-winter vine cavage in the form of powder predemethoxilized with the sodium or potassium hydroxi solution at further cuprous sulphate addition. the drink is heated up to 10-40°C before the vine powder introduction.