

95-0068

The invention relates to the production and treatment of the smoking articles namely smoking tobacco. At the addition to the tobacco compositions of aromatizer containing as active ingredients the labdanic compounds in form labdadienol with manoiloxys and fragrant product "Ambrial" or their combination are modified aroma of the tobacco smoke, are toned the taste, well harmonize with tobacco.

The products containing labdadienols with manoiloxides are obtained on the base labdanic diterpenoid of sclareol by two ways: interaction of the sclareol with acetic anhydride and further saponification the product with alkali in addition with cationite KY in the ethylacetate medium.

The obtaining products have the same qualitative composition.