

95-0164

The invention relates to the sphere of medicine, exactly to the pharmacy, which render hypertensive and antihypotensive action.

The offered pharmacy medicament relates to the new class of hypertensive substances of direct myotropic action to the vessels, able to increase and stabilize the AP level on acute arterial hypotensis of various etiology.

The medicament increases the arterial pressure for a long time.

It stimulates the intestine and uterus motive function.

Isoturon is the derivative of the alkylisothiuren combination; with a short hydrocarbon chain and it is obtained out of the thiourea and bromoethyl interaction while heating them with the help of the aquatic bath.