

95-0299

The invention relates to medicine, namely to a method for increasing the body protection characteristics to oxygen toxic activity at the raised tension.

The summary of the invention consists in the isoturone administration, possessing the radioprotecting and antihypotensive activity.

The remedy is administered once daily in the dose of 15 or 20 mg/kg in relation to the body mass before the hyperbaric oxygenation.