

95-0429

The invention relates to the veterinary medicine and may be used for cows mastitis treatment.

The summary of the invention consists in the introduction of 60 ml of sodium chloride aqueous solution anolyte, having the concentration of 0,3...0,9%, pH 2,0...4,2 and the oxidative reduction potential of +600...+1100 mV, once a day, within 3-5 days, into the affected mamma quarter through the mammillar channel.

The technical result of the invention consists in the suppression of the pathogenic microflora into the cows mamma.

Claims: 1