

96-0041

The vine sort (Vitis) is registered under the appellation of Surucenschii belâi, is obtained by the hybridization of sorts Itchkimar x Dattier de Sente Valee, is provided for fresh utilization and wine making and is districted in the Republic of Moldova.

The sort is characterized by medium sized bushes, self-fertile, the bunches of grapes are big and medium of conic and cylindrical conic forms, sometimes with wings have an average density and average weight of 280-300 gr, the size of the berries is a little bigger than the average one, the color of the berries is yellow-green, tanned from the sun side having a succulent, pulp with a pleasant and harmonic taste, having a high resistance degree to the frost and cryptogenic diseases-moldew, oidium, antracnasis, grey mold, having a productivity of 120-140 h/ha.