

a 2000 0097

The invention relates to agriculture and may be used in the capacity of remedies stimulating growth and development of the triticales plants.

Summary of the invention consists in that as growth stimulator is used culture filtrate of the Fusarium gibbosum fungus, cultivated on the Czapek nutrient medium, supplementary containing phenylalanine in the concentration of 10...20 mg/L.

The result of the invention consists in stimulating growth and development of the triticales plants.