

a 2003 0202

The invention refers to medicine, namely to stomatology and is meant for patient preparation for the intraosseous implantation.

Summary of the claimed method consists in that within 3...15 days before installation to the patient of the implants into the oral mucosa in the muco-gingival fold region once a day or in a day it is administered 0,5...1,0 ml of 0,5% solution of medicinal preparation BioR on base of the extract from cyanobacteria strain Spirulina platensis CNM-CB-02 biomass in physiological solution.

Claims: 1