

a 2007 0001

The invention relates to the material resources identification field and can be used for marking sheet dielectric articles, particularly paper documents of strict accounting and paper banknotes.

The method consists in that the irreproducible image is created by electric discharge between two electrodes, between which it is placed the identified dielectric article, for example, the paper.

Claims: 3

Fig.: 3