

a 2012 0113

The invention relates to beekeeping and can be used to stimulate the growth of bee-families.

According to the invention, the process for feeding bee-families consists in that it is used a mixture containing whey and sugar, in the mass ratio of 1:1, which is administered in spring, 100...150 ml per frame covered with bees, once every 3 days, during 3...4 weeks.

Claims: 1