

a 2007 0211

The invention relates to the electronic engineering and can be used for manufacturing of thermoelectrodes for thermoelectric converters.

The thermoelectrode is made of semiconductor anisotropic material in the form of thread in glass insulation. At the same time, the thread is made of stannum-doped tellurium in the ratio of 0.1...0.3 at.%.

Claims: 1