

a 2000 0070

The invention refers to the practical medicine and is used for balneologic treatment of the locomotor apparatus.

Summary of the invention consists in, that after hydrodistillation of the reduced to fragments clary sage Salvia sclarea plant mass with hot steam it is realized its drying by ventilation at the humidity of no more than 18% and its further reducing to fragments. The obtained plant mass is used for locomotor apparatus treatment.