

a 2000 0194

The invention relates to medicine, namely to the maxillofacial surgery and rhinology.

Summary of the invention consists in the fact that on the dorsum nasi and on the tip of nose it is fixed an L-shaped plate with radiopaque markers. Afterwards, it is made the radiography and on the radiograph, according to the radiopaque markers, it is determined the distance between the tip of nose and the nasal bone fracture place.