

The brandy-type drink consists of the following components, in dal to 1000 of blending: accelerated maturation wine distillate with decreased alcohol concentration 372...500,0, 3-year matured wine distillate 184,7...230,7, rectified ethyl alcohol 20,0...40,0, oak extract 51,0...80,0, sugar syrup 23,1...31,7, caramel 1,6...2,4 kg, softened water - the rest, up to the strength of $40 \pm 0,3\%$ vol.

The result consists in increasing the quality of the final product and in expanding the assortment of strong drinks.