

a 2003 0004

The invention refers to medicine, in particular to the medical equipment used in traumatology and orthopedics.
Summary of the invention consists in that the device is made of a metal strip (1) with rounded ends, where one end is bent in the form of hook (2), and on the opposite end (3), having a greater width, there are made a round hole (4) and an oval hole (5).

Claims: 1

Fig.: 2

