

a 2005 0212

The invention refers to medicine, in particular to pharmacology and gynecology and may be used for treatment of vaginal dysbioses.

Summary of the invention consists in that the medicinal remedy includes extract from Spirulina platensis cyanobacterium biomass, anhydrous lanolin and semisynthetic glycerides in the following component ratio, for 2 g of suppository:

extract from Spirulina platensis cyanobacterium biomass, calculated for dry substance	0,005...0,010
anhydrous lanolin	0,100...0,250
semisynthetic glycerides	up to 2,00.

Claims: 1