

s 2012 0115

The invention relates to the flour-grinding and baking industry, namely to a vitamin and mineral supplement for wheat flour.

The supplement contains vitamins B₁, B₂, B₆, PP, folic acid, elemental iron or ferrous fumarate, or ferrous sulphate, zinc oxide, as well as food filler.

The result consists in producing a supplement with an optimal ratio of ingredients, which when added into the wheat flour contributes to the increase of its biological value.

Claims: 4