

s 2017 0109

The invention relates to the wine industry, namely to a process for producing sparkling wine.

The process, according to the invention, provides for the use of Floricica and Chardonnay variety wine stocks in a ratio of (50...70):(30...50)%, respectively, and, optionally, an expedition liqueur prepared on the basis of Floricica variety wine stock.

Claims: 1